The School of Music in the Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts at Arizona State University seeks an instructor of voice for a one-year, full-time, benefits eligible position for the 2017-18 academic year. The position is an academic year (nine month), non-tenure track position. Anticipated start date is August 15, 2017.

The successful candidate is expected to teach undergraduate applied voice instruction to students majoring in music whose primary instrument is voice. The successful candidate may also teach advanced undergraduate and graduate courses in the instructor's area of specialization with consideration for departmental needs.

Arizona State University is a new model for American higher education, an unprecedented combination of academic excellence, entrepreneurial energy and broad access. This New American University is a single, unified institution comprising four differentiated campuses positively impacting the economic, social, cultural and environmental health of the communities it serves. Its research is inspired by real world application blurring the boundaries that traditionally separate academic disciplines. ASU serves more than 80,000 students in metropolitan Phoenix, Arizona, the nation's fifth largest city. ASU champions intellectual and cultural diversity, and welcomes students from all fifty states and more than one hundred nations across the globe.

The Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts, the largest comprehensive design and arts school in the nation, is a vibrant example of the of the New American University philosophy. With 4,700+ students, nearly 400 faculty and faculty associates, 125 program options and a tradition of top-ranked programs, the Herberger Institute is built on a combination of disciplines unlike any other program in the nation. The institute includes the School of Art, The School of Arts, Media + Engineering, The Design School, The School of Film, Dance and Theatre, The School of Music, and the ASU Art Museum. Through recognizing that design and the arts are critical resources for transforming society and solving complex problems, the Herberger Institute is committed to positioning artists, scholars, designers, and educators at the center of public life. http://herbergerinstitute.asu.edu/.

Located in one of the most expansive metropolitan centers in the United States and situated in the Sonoran desert, the ASU School of Music supports a broad range of inquiry. Programs within the School of Music lead to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts (BA) in Music with an optional concentration in Music and Culture; Bachelor of Music (BM) in Music with concentrations in music performance, jazz studies, music theatre, music education, music theory and composition, music therapy as well as two minors in music studies and music performance; Master of Arts (MA) in Music with concentrations in ethnomusicology or music history and literature; and Master of Music (MM) in composition, conducting, music education, music performance, performance pedagogy and music therapy. In addition, the school offers a Doctor of Musical Arts (DMA) in composition, conducting and performance and the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) with a concentration in music education or musicology, as well as a graduate certificate in theory pedagogy. With one of the largest comprehensive music programs in a public research university in the United States, the ASU School of Music plays a prominent role... within the Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts and is located on the ASU Tempe campus. music.asu.edu

Required Qualifications:
- DMA in voice performance, ABD considered or commensurate experience
- Demonstrated excellence teaching undergraduate applied voice instruction to performance, music education, music therapy and bachelor of arts majors.
- Record of creative activity (performance) and/or scholarship

Desired Qualifications:
- Expertise in classical, musical theatre, choral and/or contemporary commercial music performance practice styles and vocal technique
- Expertise in vocal pedagogy and acoustics
- Professional musical theatre and/or operatic stage experience
- Expertise in lyric diction or vocal science

Instructions to Apply: Candidates must submit: 1) a cover letter stating qualifications and teaching interests; 2) curriculum vitae or resume; 3) a video recording of at least 15 minutes of a recent performance; and 4) contact information for three professional references (including the nature of their relationship to applicant). Application materials should be sent to musicsearch@asu.edu with “Voice Instructor” in the subject line.

Application deadline: is April 21, 2017, 5:00 PM Mountain Standard Time; if not filled, reviews will occur every week thereafter until search is closed.

ASU conducts pre-employment screening for all positions, which includes a criminal background check, verification of work history, academic credentials, licenses and certifications.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. See ASU’s complete non-discrimination statement at asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html. See ASU’s Title IX policy at www.asu.edu/titleIX.